

INTERNATIONAL GLOBAL SHORTWAVE CLUB

April 22, 2023

Dear Global Shortwave Club member:

As you know, I am constantly searching for equipment to enhance your shortwave listening experiences. Recently, I found a portable radio you might like; the Tecsun PL-360 Digital PLL Portable AM/FM Shortwave Radio with DSP, but of course, with any equipment, there are always pros and cons.

Pros

At 49.99, I give this radio five stars for its value, especially if convenient tuning features and excellent scanning are important to you. It has a decent shortwave function with good audio but has a slight hiss noticeable using headphones while listening to the FM stereo, which may be a product defect and not a problem with all units. You can feed the SWL wire to the tip connector and avoid "clip-on" so long as it is not too long a wire. It is a good candidate to take on the road wherever you go.

Cons

The tuning dial mutes interferes with the fun of "tuning the dial" to discover new signals because you must step and stop constantly. Also, in "VF" mode, tuning can take a while as you can only move at two speeds: 1 kHz and 5 kHz per dial "click." That is a lot of "clicks" to go from one end of a band to the other, though you can jump between bands with the SW up and down arrows to help.

The radio is available through Amazon and has a 30-day money-back guarantee & 1-year manufacturer's warranty. Again, I am not selling anything; I am only giving you my opinion of a decent radio. Remember, you can email me at igsWC@outlook.com.

Good listening!
